Dear Keith:

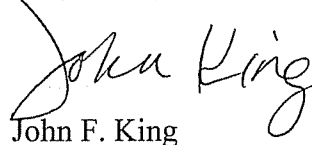

I wanted to take a moment to share some good news regarding our marketing efforts on ESPN and WTPA for "The Guy's Attorney". As you will recall, this is the first time I have ever advertised, or in fact ever worked for a firm that has advertised, on the radio. You will also recall that I structured the contract so as to "ramp up" the coverage on a three month "low level" followed by a three month "medium level", and then following at a "high level". I recognize that this description is somewhat subjective, but for a small firm such as mine, the cost of this advertising after the first six months is "high level".

The reason I am writing is to let you know that I am seeing results. We started to make a concerted effort to track the source of our new business after we started our radio campaign. I am happy to report that since that date, I have met with six people who indicated they got to us through the radio ad. It might also interest you to know that I have had several people remark upon the quality of the spot that is being run. The credit for this belongs to you.

Finally, I would like to discuss with you the creation of a second spot, which we can hopefully rotate with the existing one. The existing spot focuses on divorce related matters, and I would like another spot focusing on custody issues. I am available at your convenience to discuss content of the second spot.

Thank you very much for the ongoing, professional concern that you have exhibited during our relationship.

Very truly yours,

John F. King
